ORIGIN OF THE ROSE.

One morn, an angel at the gate
That opened into Heaven
Stood with her folded wings that late
Had fanned the stars of Even;
And, ere she plumed her shining wings
For flight 'mid Heaven's bowers,
She stooped to earth and wove a wreath
Of sweet, dew-laden flowers.

There, amid the eternal stars,
She took her flight sublime,
And entered through the Ivory Gate
Into that sunny clime:
Her sister angels flocked around
To view her earthly gem;
But found no flower like that which glows
Within their diadems.

"And is it so?" a seraph asked,
"That earth has not a bloom
Like those that in our Eden bask
With incense and perfume?"
If, then, 'tis so, my blood shall flow
Upon this snowy leaf;
And I will plant on earth the rose,
What though its life be brief."

The crimson fluid trickled down
A pendant waxy stem—
The angel waited it to earth
From out her diadem.
The stars shed dewy tears upon
The queen of all the flowers,
And now it blooms, the loveliest thing
In earth's dim, shadowy bowers.

And there is one—a living type
Of rose and angel too;
And wouldst thou know the secret? Ah!
Sweet maiden, it is you;
Earth boasts no brighter, lovelier gem
Than thou, my lady fair,
With smile as sweet and voice as low
As summer evening air.

CHERRY-WAVE, in the Highlands. L'ESTRANGE.

EXHIBITION OF THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

President Ainslie's smiling countenance as we entered last evening gave token of a great gathering. We witnessed the same with the most intense pleasure. We heard the sweet strains of Plato with undiminished satisfaction, and watched the coy adventures of scores of tenderly attached young folks with the calm stolid indifference that becomes our advanced bachelordom.

The gas fixtures of Thos. Williams & Co. of course attract universal attention. Their chief feature is the arrangement they have perfected for cooking by gas. Housekeepers will fully appreciate these superior advantages, and we look for the speedy arrival of the time when gas will have taken the precedence of wood and coal in all of our domestic affairs.

Mr. Cornelius Sargent, an accomplished young chemist, has on exhibition a beautiful assortment of chemicals prepared by himself in his leisure hours. They give great evidence of genius and skill in his profession. We shall expect from Mr. Sargent great achievements in the chemical line.

COUNTERFEIT DOLLARS.—Spurious coin of this denomination is in circulation in New York. The pieces are made of tin, of the size of the new issue and galvanized, and are easily bent between the fingers. But these are not the only spurious coins. We have one before us of the date of 1852—an imitation—the appearance of which is called to deceive an even or close observer, but it has not "the ring of the true metal." This is the test. In view of these facts, our citizens should be on their guard against the little "yellow jackets," the color of which is merely superficial.

TRIAL OF AN ENGINE.—Yesterday afternoon the "Big Relief," built for the company of that name by J. Lawson & Co., was tried. She was only half-manned, but performed to the entire satisfaction of the warmest friends of the grand old machine. A one inch stream of one hundred and eighty feet was thrown.

In this connection we are requested to state that Pat. Hughes, an old "Red Rover," will stake $100 that the Relief machine can throw two hundred feet by giving the company due notice.

The steamer W. J. Maclay, the boat which some time ago refused to pay wharfage, arrived here on Wednesday evening. Capt. Diller had the Captain brought before Judge Johnson on an ordinance warrant. The Captain had no witnesses whatever, and judgment was rendered against him for the amount of the wharfage and costs, the fine, in each case, by request of Capt. Diller, not being imposed.

MOUND CITY.—The directory of this flourishing town have been in session for the last day or two at the Louisville Hotel. They have leased a fine hotel, which has just been erected there, to Mr. J. C. Place, formerly of the National of this city. This company could not have obtained a gentleman better suited than Mr. J. He is thoroughly versed in all the minutiae of the business, and will make a popular host.

P. M. Coleman was sentenced in the Logan circuit court to be hung on the 16th of October, for the murder of Mrs. Bagley.

The annexed table shows the total export of teas from China to the United States from January 1st to June 30th. The decrease it will be seen is near fifteen million pounds, and during the same period the shipments to Great Britain fell off over twenty-nine million pounds. At last advices there was no vessel loading for this country, and it is thought the decrease for some time to come will be even greater than that shown by the following comparison:

Total exports from China to the 30th June will be: Rs. 17,530,000
Last year they were 24,390,000
Decrease 6,860,000
Total export India 7,530,000
Last year 15,100,000—7,570,000
Total decrease 13,990,000
Deficit in Teas exported to Great Britain during same period 29,200,000

FROM HAVANA.—Havana, Aug. 9.—The darkening clouds of distrust that had overhung our commercial world the whole of the previous days of last week were in great measure cleared away yesterday, and there is every appearance that in the present week business will be restored to its normal condition. This may appear extraordinary to parties at a distance who have read the previous accounts of the disastrous appearances which everything around us bore. To-morrow (Monday) all our banks will resume, and I have not heard of a single firm or house that has been crushed down by the crisis through which we have passed.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river is falling again. Last evening there were 5½ feet water in the canal.
Steamer Republic—Capt. T. J. Stewart.—The large steamer Republic is now at St. Louis, undergoing thorough repair and many improvements, under the superintendence of Capt. T. Jefferson Stewart, who has purchased the commanding interest in her. The Republic has been running but one season. She has immense capacity for carrying, and also great speed. Capt. Stewart is placing a full cabin on her, which is to be furnished in the richest style. He will run the Republic during the cotton season in the Low Mississippi trade, and afterwards between Louisville and New Orleans.

Capt. Stewart has been a pilot on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers for twenty years, and during that time no boat on which he was engaged has met with any serious accident. His services have always been sought by the finest boats in the trade. His professional skill and long experience is possessed by few, while in his private walks he enjoys the esteem and respect of our citizens, among whom he is well known and has ever resided.

The fine steamer Moses McLellan, Capt. Hildreth, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day.
The J. H. Done has been withdrawn from the Carrollton trade, and the Emma Dean will again commence running in it. The Done is advertised for Wheeling.

The fine steamer Statesman will leave for Henderson this evening at the usual hour.
The Princess is advertised to leave for Nashville to-day, and the City of Cairo for St. Louis.

Three persons lost their lives by the sinking of the J. P. Tweed. One of them was a man named Telford, from Paducah.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that Messrs. Davis & Cook have sold the Arkansas river packet Empire No. 3, Capt. Jenks Brown's boat, to Capt. John A. Kelly, of Madison, for $2,500 cash. Capt. Kelly will fit her up and place her as a regular packet between Louisville and Frankfort.

CHINESE SUGAR CANE.—It is stated that over 100,000 acres of land in the United States have been planted with the Sorgho, or Chinese Sugar Cane. This is a wonderful result, when it is considered that only two or three years have elapsed since it was first introduced into the country. Mr. H. S. Olcott, who has given a great deal of attention to the subject, has in press a treatise upon it.

LOUISIANA CROPS.—The Concordia Intelligencer of the 7th inst. says:

"The almost incessant rains, 'for the rain it raineth every day,' have injured the cotton on a vast number of plantations. The rain has been so heavy, and so long continued, that the showers were most unequally distributed, falling in patches of only a few miles square, deluging one locality and leaving those around quite dry and doing well. Where too much rain has fallen the 'growing rot' prevails, and the squares drop off alarmingly. Wednesday of the present week was the fifteenth rainy day hereabouts. Thursday morning as our paper goes to press, the big clouds are still hanging in the distance, and we expect the sixteenth day of showers.

The Harrisonburg (Catahoula parish) Independent of the 5th inst. says:

"The continued rains for the past two weeks have had a tendency to augment the rust, and otherwise materially injure the cotton crop in many localities, and there is every appearance of their continuance.

The Mount Lebanon (Bienville parish) Baptist of the 6th inst. says:

"During the last few days quite an abundance of rain has fallen. The ground is muddy wet, and the small streams full and overflowing. It is evidently too wet for cotton, though it has not been at any other period during the season, and will do but little harm unless the wet continues. Corn is for the most part safe from drought and is generally fine.

The Shreveport Southwestern of the 5th inst. says:

"It is feared that the rains of Saturday night, Sunday, Monday, and yesterday will prove injurious to the cotton crop. Our planters now require dry, clear weather.

The New York Courier has the following remarks on money matters:

"The money market of the United States is every year becoming more independent of that of Great Britain, and we now look to the west, as much as to the east, for strong influences over our own. The price of consols and the current quotations of American securities in London are matters of some interest to New York, but have no real effect upon the domestic money market. The amount of American securities negotiated in Europe within two or three years, past has been quite small, and we have strong grounds for asserting that at no former period were American securities better held or more generally distributed in Europe than now. Without being forced upon the foreign market, they have been of late years taken in moderate sums for permanent investments. We hear no more of 'two million loans' and 'three million loans' among the capitalists of western Europe for American account. State loans and railroad loans are now taken mainly in the States where they are issued. This independence of the foreign market, of foreign advances, and of violent fluctuations and crises abroad, is gradually becoming firmer, and if our merchants and importers are true to their elms and to the vast commercial interests of the country for a year or two longer, New York will give to (instead of receiving from) Lombard street a tone of its own.

The tables published on our first page will show the rapid growth of bank capital and banking facilities in the State during the past six years. We attribute the accumulation of capital largely to foreign sources, believing that the increased rate of interest legally chargeable in this State (seven per cent. instead of six) has been one of the many grounds for the increase of active capital from abroad. The banks of this State have loaned upon bond and mortgage $9,000,000
Savings Bank of New York City 17,000,000
Trust companies 4,000,000
Life insurance companies 5,000,000
Fire insurance companies 6,000,000

A total of $41,000,000
The bank capital since February, 1853, in the State, has increased over fifty per cent. and the loans 33 per cent. One feature of the statement will, however, excite some remark, viz: that during the same period the aggregate bank circulation of New York State has varied but little, and does not keep pace with the increasing business of the city and the interior. There is no surer indication than these tables of the growing prosperity of the Empire State and of the permanently profitable employment of capital within its borders.

FOR THE LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.

New York, July 28, 1857.

MESSRS. EDITORS: In a series of articles written by T. S. Bell, and published in your paper from June 4th to July 8th inst., my personal character has been so defamed before your readers as to call for a public vindication before the same community, which I have no doubt you will do me the justice to admit to your columns.

Mr. Bell's denunciation of those who have left the Bible Union is equalled in extravagance only by his glorification of those who still adhere to it. He says "there are not to be found on this planet men of more exalted worth, of more unimpeachable integrity, of more unblemished fidelity, truth, honesty, and piety than the officers of the Bible Union." Of Wm. F. Wyckoff, in a previous communication, he says, "according to the testimony of all other men who know him, no purer man lives upon the earth." On the contrary, he says "O. B. Judd has been savage in his criticisms, but he is quite as ridiculous as he is savage." "A more contemptible specimen of bleeding vanity and of baffled malice than O. B. Judd's pamphlet never emanated from any quarter."

"It is plain enough that Mr. Gordon has let himself out as a cat's paw for whatever nefarious work O. B. Judd may require at his hands." "This pamphlet to wickedness, malice, revenge, hatred, and all other Satanic graces has made himself the partner of O. B. Judd in his vice." "The chameleons J., alias Rev. G. Gordon, alias O. B. Judd shall have their aspirations for martyrdom fully gratified."

I leave your readers to judge how well it becomes one who writes in the spirit and temper of Mr. Bell's articles to talk about the "Satanic graces" of other men, and what must be the weakness of that cause which has to be defended by such personal detraction; when the management of a society, and not the personal worth or wickedness of any man, is at issue.

Most of Mr. Bell's allegations are disposed of in my "Review." Such as are not I will now notice. The ferry story is doubtless founded on the fact that, once, when about to cross the East river, where the ferryage was two cents, I gave the collector a quarter, and he gave me a dime and four three-cent pieces, requiring at his hands the intrinsic value of a cent, but as the practice of making change in that way had grown into a system of petty extortion, I protested against it, returned the change, and took the value in tickets. During this occurrence one boat left, and I was detained just ten minutes waiting for another. It is wonderful that this simple circumstance, known only to myself and Wm. H. Wyckoff, who was accustomed to cross the ferry with me, should be published in Louisville to convict an humble citizen in New York of avarice.

Mr. Bell says O. B. Judd "came to New York a poor, friendless, helpless young man." I graduated in 1844, was pastor of a church in New Haven, Conn., till 1846, when I came to New York, to be editor of the New York Recorder, "poor" enough to be sure, but in no sense "helpless" or "friendless." He says the family into which I married "assisted in building a meeting-house for him, and in making him pastor of an congregation that assembled in the house." But no meeting-house was ever built for me or for the church of which I was pastor in New York. In 1847 I had a call from the church in Chelsea, Mass., where I was offered a salary of $1,000. At the same time the Union Church of New York invited me to become their pastor, on a salary of $1,000, offering to pay $500 promptly and the balance as soon as they were able. My mother-in-law, for the sake of keeping her daughter with her in New York, and of saving the feeble church, insisted on my accepting the latter call, which I did; and labored faithfully as pastor of that church for the space of four years. Mr. Bell says "he was regularly paid for his services." But to the best of my knowledge I never received from that church on account of salary over $125. The church has always been small and weak. On this account I never urged my claim. But some time since the church was advised by its trustees to sell its property and disband. The church accordingly authorized the trustees to sell the meeting-house and lot. Not knowing to what purpose the proceeds might be applied, I felt not only authorized but bound to claim what was justly due to me. I accordingly sent in a bill for the full amount which they agreed to give me, at the same time offering to return one half. The entire claim was repudiated. To save it from being out-lawed I was compelled to commence a suit, in which the church has pleaded the statute of limitation as a bar to the collection of all but the last month's salary, which was not six years previous to suit, and which they therefore offer to pay me.

This action of the church is effected by the influence and agency of a lawyer, who is in the board of trustees. These are the simple facts in this case, most of which are known to Rev. W. W. Everts, D. D., of Louisville. Mr. Bell says "he resigned the pastorate to become a reviser." But when I resigned the pastorate I had not the most distant idea of becoming a reviser.

Mr. Bell says the committee of investigation was appointed on my motion, which statement has no foundation in truth. I opposed the appointment of any committee outside of the board. But when the committee had been appointed, as nominated by Dr. Armitage, I did move that the filling of vacancies be referred to "the officers at the rooms," that the committee might appear to be what it was in reality, the creature of the officers.

Mr. Bell says, when the committee's report was made to the Union, "in which the latter gentleman says that, 'in the course of a thorough investigation of everything connected with that body from its origin to the date of our examination, all documents of every kind, confidential and otherwise, including the contracts with all the revisers, and everything of that kind, were placed before us.' But how they arrived to that degree of omniscience to know that no other document, nor any other thing whatever, connected with the Bible Union, ever existed, except what was laid before them, would puzzle the wise men of Egypt to divine. The statement is from its nature incredible. Besides I know, and am prepared to prove, that the contract with Messrs. Boys and Thelwall, two Episcopal revisers of England, with many other documents of the Union, were not laid before that committee.

The report of Mr. Wyckoff and myself had no reference to the peculiar form of Mr. Thelwall's contract, but related to the Baptist revisers, who wished some instruction as to the term "baptize." The terms of Mr. Thelwall's contract, requiring that we should be supplied by some word in "common secular use," were well known to the Board nor to me till the late investigation. A reference to the contracts, as set forth in my "Review," will show whether, as Mr. Wyckoff says, "all this is left to the revisers acting in the fear of God;" and "no distinction has ever been made or intended in our treatment of revisers between Baptist and Pedobaptist."

Mr. Bell admits that the passage cited on the 41st page of my "Review," from the Investigating Committee's report, was written by Mr. Wyckoff, but says the committee "marked it as a quotation by inverted commas," and that I "removed the quotation marks published by the committee." But this is contrary to the fact. The copy of that report which I used was from an edition published and distributed under the eye and hand of that committee, the only edition printed before they adjourned and left the city. In that copy, which I send to you, there are no quotation marks. See 6th page of the Report and 41st page of the "Review," which also I send you.

It matters little, however, who wrote the report. The essential point relates to its accuracy and reliability, which I have fully treated in the "Review."

Mr. Bell, with his usual sagacity and modesty, asserts that "the fingers of O. B. Judd were manifest in the publication made ostensibly by Rev. G. Gordon, in the Journal of the 20th inst.," June. But his discovery is "baseless as the fabric of a vision." For I was totally ignorant of the whole matter until the 20th of July. Up to that time not one word had ever passed, directly or indirectly, between me and Mr. Gordon.

Finally, Messrs. Editors, I shall feel greatly obliged for the opportunity of vindicating myself in your columns from the gross personal assaults of Mr. Bell through the same medium. I do not know what your numerous, intelligent readers may think of such groundless charges and opprobrious epithets as abound in the articles of Mr. Bell, but I think they cannot fail to form a correct judgment as to the degree of confidence and respect to which such men are justly entitled. In all the discussions in relation to the Bible Union's mismanagement, I have refrained from strictures upon individual character as irrelevant. But if the characters of Messrs. Bell, Edmonds, and others should ever come to be the subjects of consideration, I shall certainly treat them as they deserve. Respectfully yours,
O. B. JUDD.

[From this morning's Journal.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.

Gov. Walker, of Kansas, in the official dispatches recently received, says that on one point he has been grossly misrepresented, namely, as desiring that every man should vote who happened to be in the Territory on the day of the election for the ratification of the constitution. This, he remarks, would be desirable if there was conclusive evidence that all such persons were actual bona fide settlers, but the only sufficient and usual proof of such a fact would be some previous residence. On this point, which is one of detail, he had never proposed to make suggestions to the Convention, although when asked his opinion by members of that body, he had indicated a previous residence of three or six months, and that the same qualifications should be adopted in the constitution, in regard not only to that but to all future elections, and in his judgment one or the other of these terms of residence will be adopted by the Convention, from whom he anticipated a cordial co-operation.

It is somewhat extraordinary, he adds, that while this accusation of letting every man vote who may happen to be in the Territory on the day of election has been preferred in the South as indicating a desire on my part to let in abolition interlopers to control the result. The Republicans of Kansas have drawn an entirely different conclusion, viz: that I design in this manner to bring many thousands of Missourians into the Territory to decide the contest.

The President has by proclamation declared a treaty of friendship and commerce between the United States and Persia of binding force. In addition to Ambassadors or diplomatic agents near each government, it provides for Persian Consuls at Washington, New Orleans, and New York, and United States Consuls at Teheran, Bender, Bushire, and Paris. The treaty to continue in force for ten years.

John Haverty was appointed Superintendent of Indian Affairs of the western agency, vice Governor Cummings. On the assembling of Congress Frederick A. Stanton, Secretary of State of Kansas, will succeed him.

Henry F. Wendell was appointed Navy Agent at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, vice Nehemiah Moses.

Joseph Holt, of Kentucky, was tendered an appointment of Commissioner of Patents to-day, but declined.

DEBOUT, Aug. 20.

Hostilities have again broken out between the Sioux and Chippewas. On the 1st a band of Chippewas attacked a detached party of Sioux near Cactoxier's and took 30 scalps; they then retreated down Red river.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.

S. Bronson, formerly Cashier of the Merchants' and Mechanics' Bank of this city, was arrested at St. Louis on Sunday, at the instance of Mr. Woodworth, President, on the charge of larceny of $50,000 from the funds of the Bank.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.

Peter Cooper, President of the American and Newfoundland Telegraph Companies, has tendered the free use of the wires to the press on the arrival of the cable at Newfoundland, for the transmission of any communications thereto.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.

John H. Strauss, one of the proprietors of the Daily Commercial, died suddenly to-day.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.

Major Beard, a celebrated auctioneer of this city, is dead.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 20, P. M.

The river is still receding at this point. The Missouri and Upper Mississippi are falling. The Illinois continues swelling. Weather very cool.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20, P. M.

River 6 feet 2 inches by the pier mark and falling. Weather clear. Mercury 68 degrees.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20, P. M.

Weather continues the same.

Per Dunkleith from Nashville—

Hard by the headquarters of this fine company there dwelt a vender of cigars and tobacco, who was distinguished as being the ugliest man in the neighborhood. His establishment derived the principal part of its support from the Mount Vernon boys, and the invariable form of address, when a plug of his chewing tobacco was called for, was, "Give us a plug, Ugly."

cover his lost territory, to say nothing of the inflammable character of the hundred petty chiefs of Rajpootana, and of the consequences that may follow the death of Gholab Singh—in this situation no one can regard 20,000 English troops as a sufficient substitute for the force we have lost and the position in which the loss has placed us. As a first and immediate counter to the inevitable military force in that direction, we must doubt a substantial one. But even if General Bernard succeeded, before the rain commenced, in capturing Delhi, and in annihilating the base and traitorous troops now in possession of the capital of the Moghul Empire, for many years to come an augmentation of the Queen's troops in India to that extent will be required."

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

NEW YORK, August 13, 1887.

We have no change to notice in the money market, and business generally very dull.

For flour the demand continues light, and small sales only were made at $5.50/55.60. Prices have a downward tendency. Wheat has declined; red wheat 75c to 80c, and white 81c to 82c. A sale of 100 sacks white corn at 77c, sacks included. Oats dull at 25c/30c. For rye dealers do not offer over 70c.

In the grocery market, a sale of 34 hds sugar at 11c, 7 hds at 12c, a few hds Cuba at 12c, 15 hds St. Louis refined at 14c, 100 bags Rio Coffee at 11c, and 10 bags at 11c.

Nothing was done in provisions.

Sales of 8 hds tobacco—3 at 65c and 5 at 70c/65c, and 3 at 65c, 10, 45, and 13.60.

Hay declined. Sales in limited lots from the wharf at $12.

Sales of raw wool at 24c.

Sales of 140 pieces bagging in several lots at 12c/13c, 200 coils handlaid and a few coils 140s and 150s machine spun at 24c, 100 coils handlaid at 24c, and 50 coils at 24c.

Sales 75 pieces Camellion sheetings at 50c and 100 bales batting at 16c.

Nothing doing in freights.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20, P. M.

Cotton market closed firm. 500 bales sold to-day; sales of three days, 1,700. Flour market dull; 6,000 bbls sold. Wheat heavy; 12,000 bushels sold and declined 3/8c; quoted at $1.70/1.71, red $1.62/1.63. Corn firm; 45,000 bushels sold. Meat market buoyant and 25c better at $25.50/25.70. Provisions generally steady. Sugar dull; Muscovado at 8 1/2c/9c, Iacon firm. Lard sold at 80c/82c. Iron—Scotch pig $20/22.50. Tallow firm; 100,000 lbs sold at 12 1/2c/12 1/2c. The auction sales of wines and spirits was satisfactory and a large portion was withdrawn. Hops closed firm at 85c.

Stocks firm—Chicago and Rock Island 90; Cumberland Coal Co. 11; Lucerne and Milwaukee 27; Michigan Southern 29 1/2; New York Central 77 1/2; Michigan Central 75 1/2; Reading 74 1/2; Galena and Chicago 93 1/2; Cleveland and Toledo 42 1/2; Milwaukee and Mississippi 45 1/2; Missouri 75.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 20, P. M.

Flour has further declined 1/2c per bbl, closing at $5.25/5.50 for superfine and extra; receipts 3,000 bbls. Wheat in good export demand with sales of 46,000 bushels, closing steady at $1 for good red and $1.20 for white. Whisky has declined to 24c and is very dull, with large receipts. The money market is unchanged.

NEW ORLEANS, August 20, P. M.

Sales of cotton to-day 350 bales; market calm at 15c. Flour very dull. Pork buoyant at $35. Lard firm at 16c. Western hay 23c. Exchange on London 10 1/2 cent.

Mr. Whitty has of late produced a marked sensation in the literary circles of Great Britain by a series of satirical papers published in the London Times, under the non de plume of "The Stranger in Parliament," which have gained for him the most honorable notoriety of being one of the most powerful political essayists in Europe and a satirist of great vigor and strength. This his first complete work is.

A SATIRICAL NOVEL of the most brilliant character, combining a racy exposure of certain literary and artistic chimes in London, together with a story and plot which for quaintness and interest has been compared to the "Christie Johnstone" and "Peg Wodington" of Charles Reade.
